

Meaningful democracy only exists and operates to provide and secure liberty through the actions of a well-informed, active citizenry. Many of the core tenets and concepts evidencing the true democratic process as a superior method for managing the daily life of the body of the United States will certainly be at much greater risk of degradation and disintegration if the truthfulness, wholeness, accuracy, and availability of diversely relevant news and information provided by non-corporate-bound voices of "free" and independent newspaper and broadcast media outlets is allowed to become sequestered by huge corporate conglomerates whose primary loyalty and core raison d'etre may be more aligned with success in economic and/or political strategies than with cultivating, nurturing, or protecting the First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution. No single entity, no corporation, no federal or state regulatory body has jurisdiction over the truth.
